Open class has been used for over a century for community members to show off their homemade goods. Farmers brought livestock and field products, like grain, while their wives brought homemade linens, clothing, foods, and vegetables. They exhibited their goods at this annual community gathering in hopes of winning a blue ribbon. The blue ribbon was one of the highest honors an exhibitor could receive--it gave bragging rights for a whole year! We are proud to continue this legacy at the Hubbard County Fair and we hope that you will join us by exhibiting your homemade and homegrown items for all to see.

Do you make crafts, bake, preserve food, garden, or raise livestock? Would you like to show off your hard work?
